

2022 Nevada PrEP Institute April 5-6, 2022

Learning Objectives

- Review Nevada’s plan to end the HIV epidemic and identify gaps in PrEP access to increase uptake among priority populations
- Describe updates to the CDC PrEP guidelines (December 2021), including eligibility criteria, safety monitoring, on-demand use, and long-acting formulations
- Identify strategies to facilitate PrEP uptake, including methods to finance PrEP care and deliver culturally responsive, trauma informed services
- Devise organizational PrEP implementation action plans.

Agenda

Day 1: Tuesday, April 5

9:00- 9:15AM	Welcome Preston Tang, MPH, HIV Prevention Coordinator and Data Analyst, Nevada Department of Health and Human Services Jonathan Fuchs, MD, MPH, Director, Center for Learning & Innovation (CLI) and the HIV Capacity Building Assistance Program of the San Francisco Dept. of Public Health (getSFcba)
9:15- 9:55AM	Ending the current HIV epidemic in Nevada: How does PrEP fit in? Speakers will describe recent trends in HIV and STI diagnoses in Nevada, noting key geographic and demographic disparities. They also will highlight strategies, including expanding PrEP rollout, to help end the HIV epidemic and outline recent statewide policy initiatives to support HIV prevention goals. Caress Baltimore, MPH, CHES, Nevada Division of Public and Behavioral Health Jennifer Howell, MPH, Sexual Health Program Coordinator, Washoe County Health District Cheryl L. Radeloff, PhD, Senior Health Educator, Southern Nevada Health District
9:55- 10:00AM	STRETCH
10:00- 10:50AM	What’s new in PrEP for 2022? The PrEP landscape has changed significantly over the past several months, including newly updated CDC clinical guidelines and FDA approval of long-acting injectable cabotegravir as the newest PrEP agent. Jessica Bloome, MD, MPH, Deputy Director, getSFcba, SFDPH

10:50- 11:00AM	BREAK
11:00- 11:45AM	Learning from PrEP clients' experiences Centering the voices PrEP consumers is critical for providers to appreciate the potential promise and pitfalls of PrEP delivery. This panel discussion will explore the lived experience of PrEP clients to inform current and future prescribers. Leisha McKinley-Beach, CBA Specialist, getSFcba
11:45- 11:50AM	STRETCH
11:50AM- 12:50PM	Organizational models of PrEP implementation: lessons from the field PrEP can be offered in a wide range of clinical settings, most recently by pharmacists. This panel discussion will highlight different public and private PrEP delivery models. Todd Bleak, PharmD, MBA, Clinical Pharmacist, Southern Nevada Health District John (Rob) Phoenix, APRN, FNP-C, Huntridge Family Clinic Stephanie Romano, APRN, Southern Nevada Health District Ivy Spadone, PA-C, Northern Nevada Hopes Moderator: Jonathan Fuchs, MD, MPH, Director, Center for Learning & Innovation, San Francisco Department of Public Health
12:50- 1:00PM	Wrap-up and evaluation Jonathan Fuchs, MD, MPH, Director, Center for Learning & Innovation, San Francisco Department of Public Health

Day 2: Wednesday, April 6 (for PrEP Implementers)

9:00- 9:20AM	Welcome Preston Tang, MPH, HIV Prevention Coordinator and Data Analyst, Nevada Department of Health and Human Services Why we're here Robert Wilder Blue, MSW, CBA Specialist, getSFcba
9:20- 10:30AM	PrEP navigation and financing: providing access to PrEP with as few barriers as possible Robert Wilder Blue will review fundamental principles of PrEP navigation, including financing PrEP care for both uninsured and insured persons, same-day PrEP initiation, and retention in PrEP care.

10:30- 10:40AM	BREAK
10:40- 11:20	Respectful language: enhancing our engagement and enriching our conversations Careful attention to the language we use with our clients and patients is key to establishing rapport and fostering engagement--important drivers of client-centered care. Leisha McKinley-Beach, CBA Specialist, getSFcba
11:20- 11:25AM	STRETCH
11:25AM- 12:15PM	The roles of stigma and medical mistrust in accessing sexual health and HIV prevention services The historical and present-day legacy of mistrust in the health care system by communities of color can thwart efforts to expand PrEP use and combat HIV disparities. Through a case-based approach, our speaker will explore ways in which providers can build trust and advance health equity. Leisha McKinley-Beach, CBA Specialist, getSFcba
12:15- 12:20PM	STRETCH
12:20- 1:15PM	Developing your organization's PrEP Implementation Action Plan Robert Wilder Blue, MSW, CBA Specialist, getSFcba
1:15- 1:30PM	Wrap-up and evaluation Preston Tang, MPH, HIV Prevention Coordinator and Data Analyst, Nevada Department of Health and Human Services Robert Wilder Blue, MSW, CBA Specialist, getSFcba

Event Faculty Disclosures

Leisha McKinley-Beach has received honoraria from Gilead Science, ViiV, and Thera technologies.

John (Rob) Phoenix, APRN, FNP-C has received honoraria and grant funding from Gilead Sciences, and honoraria from NAPO Pharmaceuticals, Janssen Pharmaceuticals, and ViiV.

All other speakers and planners have no relevant financial relationships to disclose.